STREET, Annie

When we decided to move to Carnarvon, we didn't know what to expect. What we found was a very welcoming and supportive community, making us very happy we chose to make Carnarvon our home.

A stand out feature of this town, besides the beautiful Fascine, is the inclusive nature of all peoples. Seldom seen in other parts of this country, today.

Having studied such subjects as; Politics, Sociology, Anthropology and Social Justice at University, it comes as second nature to me, to care for others and strive for the betterment of everyone.

My goal is to work with Community groups, individuals and business owners, like myself, to find solutions and strategies for issues that affect us all. I would like to see us all, standing together to create a thriving, progressive and growing region. One that tourists will flock to, stay longer, which hopefully, will create more jobs
